

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE

---

McCloy, William Ashby

Connecticut College Medal

The Connecticut College Medal was established in 1969 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the graduation of the College's first class.

It is conferred on individuals whose accomplishments or service have enhanced the College's reputation and nourished its growth. It is the highest honor the College can confer.

The medal was designed by William Ashby McCloy, professor emeritus of art.