From Here to There . . . . .

Artist's Statement

Ever since I was a little boy, I have always known what I had ever wanted.
Describing it has never been easy. I simply needed to express it.
To see it from within, and then let it all out.
I may have grown older, a little bit taller and possibly . . . . . a little wise.
But my wish is still the same.

Introduction

Herein lies a small story.
It tells the tale of a little boy searching for something gentle, something sincere . . . and what one may eventually find.
It begins as all stories do, by simply opening onto its first page.
What happens next . . . you will soon find out.
